COURTESY

Bordewich Bray Elementary School's Physical Education Teacher Linda Hurzel (left) and Vice Principal Michelle Cleveland (right) are accompanied by 18 students who were the top fundraisers for Bordewich Bray Elementary School's Jog-a-Thon. The 18 students were treated to a catered luncheon at the Governor's Mansion on Tuesday, Oct. 16. More than $15,000 were raised at Bordewich's Jog-a-Thon event, Oct. 5. The money, raised for the Parent Teacher Association (PTA), will be used to support and enhance the students' education through various enrichment activities throughout the year.

The Rockin' Rev to feature Halloween treats and nutty novelty songs Saturday

Turn on and tune in to "Reminiscing With The Rockin' Rev" this Saturday from 2-6 p.m. on AM 1180 KCKQ or www.americamat-ters.us for the Rockin' Rev's Halloween party.

The Rev will feature songs that might frighten and others that will make you laugh. It will be a four hour Halloween treat. No tricks.

The Rev will feature "Dinner With Droc," "The Monster Mash," "Spooky," "The Purple People Eater," "The Mummy" and more.

Novelty songs such as "Mr. Custer," "Hello Muddah, Hello Fadduh" and "The Mississippi Squirrel Revival" also will be included.

So turn on and tune in Saturday. The Rev will tickle your funny bone.

Marianne Denton to Lecture on 'Water Bears' on Oct. 27

They're smaller than a millimeter, live on fluid and are tough enough to survive radiation and starvation.

Tardigrades, or more commonly water bears, will be the topic of Marianne Denton's Oct. 27 lecture, "Teeny-Tiny Tardigrades: The Wondrous World of Water Bears," at Western Nevada College's Jack C. Davis Observatory.

Denton is a full-time aquatic ecologist, part-time student and astrobiology enthusiast who's active in preparing, promoting and/or presenting science-based events in Northern Nevada.

"When I'm not collecting tardigrades for research, I am collecting benthic macroinvertebrates — the little creatures that live in the bottom of streams, lakes and wetlands," she said.

Water bears are eight-legged minute invertebrates that prefer to live in moist areas such as water and mosses. Some believe they'll remain on Earth longer than people.

The free lecture is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

When lectures aren't scheduled on Saturdays at Jack C. Davis, the observatory is open to the public from sundown to 11 p.m. for Star Parties led by the Western Nevada Astronomical Society.

Christmas Craft Faire to be held

A Christmas Craft Faire will be held Dec. 7-9 at the Carson Colony Gym, 2900 S. Curry St., Carson City.

The fair will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. Indian tacos will also be available for purchase.

For information, call Ann Johnson, 775-392-3608.

'Andy and Sp' released by F

Nevada Appeal staff report

Fernley author Mary Jean Kelso recently saw her latest book, "Andy and Spirit Ride a Train," released. This is the seventh title in a series about a special needs boy and therapy horse.

The book is published by Guardian Angel Publishing, Inc., whose cover blurb states: "Andy and Spirit accompany Tracy, their horse therapy trainer, on a trip through gold country on an historic train. They plan to ride horses on equestrian trails at the end of the line. A breakdown and serious injury interrupts their plans when they are called upon to help rescue someone."

Illustrations by fine artist K.C. Snider depict the adventure to the railroad museum.

Kelso has written more than 30 books for children, young adults and adults. They're available on her Facebook page, Mary Jean Kelso, Author/Illustrator, or her website, <https://maryjeankelsoauthor.wixsite.com/mjkel> as well as many
