

PEARLS FROM A POET

COURTESY DAN DAVIS

Retired Senior Deputy Attorney General Glade Myler recently lectured about Spanish poetry in Mari-sa Morrow's AP Spanish class at Carson High School. Myler is fluent in English, Spanish and Portu-guese, and somewhat fluent in German, Italian and French. Myler was also accompanied by his wife, Carolyn, photographer for the three poetry books he has published: 'Through the Eye of the Needle,' 'Perspectives' and 'Rays of Light and Hope.' The Carson City poet lectured on similar subjects at Utah State University on Nov. 9.

it was like they were old friends.

Several veterans were honored for their service at a Carson City Republican Women luncheon on Nov. 21 at the Carson Nugget.

The guest speaker was John Yuspa, founder and CEO of Honor Flight Nevada.

Many of those in attendance recounted their experiences with Honor Flight, which ushers local veterans to the nation's capital so they can see the mon-uments built in their honor.

Yuspa said many of the men and women who go on the trips might never have met before. But after shar-ing this experience,

A biannual luncheon is held in Reno to honor those who are unable to take the trip to the nation capital.

Election of officers for 2018 was voted at the meeting as well.

The officers for the coming year include: Preside Angela LoGiurato; 1st V President Mary Burgoor 2nd Vice President Janie
