

Three Carson High seniors win Lions Club scholarships

Submitted

The Carson City Host Lions Club awarded scholarships to three students from Carson High School.

The students are Kobe Morgan, Jonathan Barrera-Martinez, and Michael Service. Each student will receive up to $2,000 to help with expenses at a community college, trade or technical school.

The students were selected on the basis of the quality of their interviews and application, demonstrated community service, work history, scholastic achievements, and financial need. The Lions also considered scholastic standing and written accolades from community members.

Barrera-Martinez

Service is an Eagle Scout and expects to pursue a career in graphic design or cyber security.

Morgan will pursue baseball in college as a student athlete and expects to major in environmental science.

Morgan

auto mechanics at Western Nevada College. He expects to major in business.

All three will graduate from Carson High in 2021.

Barrera-Martinez has participated in the Jump Start career program, taking classes in national. The motto of Lions is "We Serve," and the Carson City Host Lions have been serving this community since 1932.
